12 Non-Executive Remuneration

In considering the levels of remuneration for Non-Executive Directors, the Committee is to consider the guidelines set out in Box 8.2 of the 4th Edition of the ASX Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (Recommendations):

- (a) Composition: Non-Executive Directors should be remunerated by way of cash fees, superannuation contributions and non-cash benefits in lieu of fees (such as salary sacrifice into superannuation or equity).
- (b) Fixed Remuneration: levels of fixed remuneration for non-executive directors should reflect the time commitment and responsibilities of the role.
- (c) Performance Based Remuneration: ideally, Non-Executive Directors should not receive performance-based remuneration as it may potentially lead to bias in their decision-making and compromise their objectivity and ability to challenge management appropriately. However, as discussed below, the Company considers that there may be value in using performance-based remuneration for Non-Executive Directors whilst the Company is in the exploration phase of development and is not generating cash. If used, performance-based remuneration should be linked to clearly specified performance targets that are aligned with the Company's short, medium and longer-term performance objectives and should be consistent with the Company's purpose, strategic goals and Statement of Values. Moreover, discretion should be retained to prevent performance based remuneration from rewarding conduct that is contrary to the Company's values or risk appetite.
- (d) Equity Based Remuneration: it is generally acceptable for non-executive directors to receive securities as part of their remuneration to align their interests with the interests of other holders. However, non-executive directors generally should not receive options with performance hurdles attached or performance rights as part of their remuneration as it may lead to bias in their decision-making and compromise their objectivity. However, well-designed equity-based remuneration (including options or performance rights) can be an effective form of remuneration, especially during the early stages of Company development as a means of conserving cash. Accordingly, it is generally acceptable for Non-Executive Directors to receive securities (including options or performance rights) as part of their remuneration to align their interests with the interests of other holders.
- (e) Termination Payments: Non-Executive Directors should not be provided with retirement benefits other than superannuation.

To the extent that the Company adopts a different remuneration structure for its Non-Executive Directors, the Committee shall document its reasons for the purpose of disclosure to stakeholders. There are no minimum shareholding requirements for Non-Executive Directors.

13 Executive Remuneration

In setting the remuneration for Executives pursuant to clause 11(b), the Committee is to consider the guidelines set out in Box 8.2 of the Recommendations:

- (a) Composition: remuneration packages for Executives should include an appropriate balance of fixed remuneration and performance-based remuneration;
- (b) Fixed Remuneration: should be reasonable and fair, taking into account the entity's obligations at law and labour market conditions and should be relative to the scale of the Company's business. It should reflect core performance requirements and expectations;

- (c) Performance Based Remuneration: should be clearly linked to clearly specified performance targets. These targets should be aligned to the Company's short, medium- and longer-term performance objectives and should be consistent with the Company's purpose, strategic goals and Statement of Values. Discretion should be retained where appropriate to prevent performance-based remuneration rewarding conduct that is contrary to the Company's values or risk appetite;
- (d) Equity Based Remuneration: well-designed equity-based remuneration, including options or performance rights, can be an effective form of remuneration, especially when linked to hurdles that are aligned to the Company's short, medium and longer-term performance objectives. Care needs to be taken not to lead to short termism or the taking of undue risks; and
- (e) Termination Payments: termination payments if any, should be agreed in advance and the agreement should clearly address what will happen in the case of early termination. There should be no payment for removal for misconduct.

To the extent that the Company adopts a different remuneration structure for its Executive Directors, the Committee shall document its reasons for the purpose of disclosure to stakeholders.

14 Nomination of a Director

Where a Director is put forth for election, the Committee must ensure the following information is provided to Shareholders:

- (a) biographical details
- (b) details of material directorships
- (c) if the director is standing for the first time:
 - (i) confirmation appropriate checks have been undertaken by the Company;
 - (ii) if any information of concern has been revealed by such checks;
 - (iii) details of any potential conflicts of interest; and
 - (iv) whether the Board will consider the Director as independent.

Where the Committee appoints a Director prior to completion of appropriate background checks, it must ensure that the Director gives an unequivocal undertaking to resign should the Company receive an unsatisfactory check.

15 Approvals/Recommendations

The Committee must approve the following prior to implementation:

- (a) changes to the remuneration or contract terms of Executive Directors and direct reports to the Chair and Managing Director/CEO (if applicable);
- (b) the Plans or amendments to current equity plans or executive cash-based incentive plans;
